CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1898.

NO. 24.

"I'LL SHOOT," SAID HE,

The First Man Who Interferes With This Scrap!"

Dukes Has an Old Time Slugging Match With Trimmings.

Dukes, just over the line in Hancock county, is not a very big town, but it's a hot burg for it's size. Saturday night, which was Christmas eve, one that will be long remembered there for that it occurred a fight that was a vivid reminder of the slugging matches so numerous in this section a half century ago.

Eldred Powers and Dave Isom, two powerfully built young men, who are as good as they can be, had some little difference, and the result was a scuffle of whiskey they had been drinking.

Both were epileptic enough to think they were the best judges of liquor in Kentucky and as there was no way to settle the difficulty outside the arbitration of arms, they slued their coats and went after each other in a way that would have warned the cookies of the hearts of our ancient and respected ancestors.

They used their fists, their knives and teeth and all other weapons they had access to. Some say that the fight lasted five minutes; others say it was of two hours. It was the most terrible witness say it all happened in a space of thirty minutes.

It is certain that the fight would have been much more brief had the peace-makers in the crowd been allowed to interfere, but it is alleged that a young man named Lester strode to the center of the field of honor and said, "Get out of here, you fellows, and let me settle this."

The following is a list of casualties:

Mr. Powers, of Dukes, Ky., two stab wounds inflicted with a knife.

Mr. Powers of Dukes, Ky., fingers badly bitten by teeth of his opponent.

Mr. Isom, of Dukes, Ky., badly disfigured, his nose and eyes by the fists of his antagonist.

Peace has settled over Dukes and once more the sun shines bright over our old Kentucky home.

TELEPHONE TALK.

Ohio County Companies Have Consolidated.

The Ohio County Telephone company has strung its wire from Fortville to Springfield, and from Fortville to Springfield and Beaver Dam, and by January 15 will have its line up to the two latter named places and the instruments in. Fortville will then have two lines into the county seat, which will ensure cheap toll rates, the local companies having franchises over them at a fifteen cent rate, while the rate of the Cambria company is twenty-five cents.

The Ohio County Telephone company and the Fortville Telephone company have consolidated, and have decided to build a line from Fortville to Owenton, and from Owenton to New Haven, Bedford and Phillips, connecting with the Harrison exchange at Owenton. It will be a small-circum line, and one of great importance to Owenton, as it will carry the business of twenty-five thousand.

A local exchange will be established at Fortville, and J. D. Cooper as manager, the material now being on the ground for the work.

A Wise Bird.

A magnificent specimen of horned owl was shipped by the Vest Bro., Monday to Evansville, Ill., where it will be used as a New Year's attraction in the show window of the Vest Bro. store. The owl, which is a wise-looking bird, will doubtless wonder over the fate that compels it to hoot mournfully in Chicago, far away from the hills and hollows of old Kentucky.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Face, Hands and Arms Covered With Scrofulous Humors—How a Cure Was Effectuated.

"When five years old my little boy had scrofulous humor in his hands and feet. It was worse on his chinks and hands were very bad. It appeared in the form of red pimples which would fester, break and ooze and then scab over. After dissolving them they would break out again. They caused intense itching and the little sufferer had to be watched constantly to keep him from scratching the sores. We were greatly alarmed at his condition. My wife's mother had scrofulous and the only medicine which had helped her was Hood's Sarsaparilla. We had him sent to our boy and we noted an improvement in his case very soon. After giving him four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla the humor had all been driven out of his body and he has since always taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, 400 South Williams St., South Bend, Indiana.

You can buy Hood's Sarsaparilla at all druggists. Be sure to get only Hood's.

VERY SUCCESSFUL
Breckenridge Boy Becomes a Successful Educator.

Prof. J. M. Pyle, of Wayne, Neb., is visiting his mother in this Burns neighborhood. Mr. Pyle is an honor to his native country. When he went to Wayne a few years since he had but little money and was forced to work in the various college buildings for his normal school. They proposed to give him the buildings and grounds if he secured 200 boarding pupils for the school. He did so and now the property belongs to him. The Wayne Normal School now has 350 pupils and is now one of the most prosperous educational institutions in the west.

OFFICER KILLED.

By a Tough Character in Hartford.

Sam Casheier Falls a Victim to the Deadly Knife of Chas. King.

Hartford, the county seat of Ohio, was thrown into an intense degree of excitement Saturday afternoon by the murder of Town Marshal Sam Casheier and the wounding of G. B. Likens, by Chas. King.

On Saturday morning King, who lives in the country a few miles from town, went to Hartford, it is said, for the avowed purpose of killing Casheier and Likens. At 2:30 in the afternoon Marshal Casheier attempted to arrest a man named W. G. Moore, who was in the drugstore, and King interfered at the same time drawing a large dirk knife. The officer then told King to consider him self under arrest, and made an effort to seize him by the arm, but King, who had been drinking, struck him and cut him.

G. B. Likens, the printer's devil in the News office, happened to be just behind the fleeing man and King was hurting him and the two men were then the blade into the victim's body. Before he had to attend to some social duties in Cowheel that evening.

The crowd, who had been gathered around the drugstore, was then drawn to the scene of the crime. King got a move on himself in the other direction and literally burned the wind. It's the first time in the history of Cloverport where any other agency than a big revival meeting had big the devil on the run.

The city marshal in the meantime had been summoned and Galloway had his pistol drawn at Mr. Graham. The marshal, who is patient and long suffering, did not dare to chance the life of his third attempt and to save his own life shot at Galloway.

The shock of being hit by the bullet knocked the man down but he was up in a few minutes and it required the united efforts of the marshal and a posse of four to secure the murderer to the law. He seemed to be possessed of the spirit and strength of a demon.

He was guarded that night and on Saturday morning was brought before Justice Judge Skillman to be tried on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He had a comely appearance, his physical condition such that he could not stand trial. His request was granted and the case was continued until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. His bond was placed at $250 in default of which he was placed in jail.

Monday, Judge Skillman, in justice of the facts, said that King was mentally and physically unfit to stand trial, continued the case until Tuesday. He reduced the bond to $100 in order to give the prisoner's friends a chance to bail him out and give him surgical and medical treatment at their houses. None appear however, at Galloway's side.

The young man seemed a very desperate man. He is said to live near the Forks of Rough and his brother is said to have killed a man.

Rev. T. V. Jones visited Galloway while he was in jail and ministered to his comfort as best he could. Galloway told the minister that he was ill with rheumatism and that if he got out of this trouble he would be a better man in future.

THINKS IT APPROPRIATE.

Dr. A. A. Simons prides himself on his appreciation of the fitness of things, and is a man of great tact and tactfully guides his wife, continued his wife until Tuesday. He reduced the bond to $100 in order to give the prisoner's friends a chance to bail him out and give him surgical and medical treatment at their houses. None appear however, at Galloway's side.

there is nothing better than Foley's Kidney Cure, everyone who tries it will agree to this.—A. R. Fisher, Cloverport; R. A. Shellman, Stephensport; E. A. Witt, Hardinsburg.

GRIPPE IN EPIDEMIC.

Grippe is epidemic in this city. It is as much prevalent here as it is in large cities. Quite a number of people are suffering with it. Among those thus far confined to their homes are J. D. Babbages, of the News; Mrs. Ed. Klassen and child, and Mrs. Charles Babbes and child. All are now recovering.

DEATH OF MRS. HORACE ROFF.

Mrs. Horace Roff, a widow, 60 years old, died at 4 o'clock Sunday at her home in Morenci, Ill. She was 70 years of age, and a sister of George H. Gregory. She was buried at the old family grave yard at Morenci.

HAPPY CHILDREN.

The children at all the Sunday schools were happily remembered Sunday by being given gifts of candy, fruits and nuts. Special exercises helped to make the services unusually interesting.

PLUGGED HIS MAN.

City Marshal Shoots a Bad Man From Forks of Rough.

Saw-Mill Hand Tries to Take the Old Towns of Clover.

Succeeded in Making the Devil a Move on Himself.

Cloverport had a taste of the wild west about 6:30 o'clock Friday evening.

A. W. Galloway, a saw-mill hand, who has been at work down the river, determined to make a name for himself and were very successful, although the town resented his familiarity and gave him a dose of his own medicine.

Galloway, before he started in on his assault, had told King he would be ready to meet him at the crossroads at 6:30 o'clock.

"How would you like a dose of these charlie-boys?" said King.

Charlie, who has been sick, and who had some experience with physicians, did not like the course of treatment pre-scribed and determined that if he could not get a dose of his own medicine he would be ready to meet him at the crossroads at 6:30 o'clock.

Galloway whooped and yelled as he went to the crossroads, and King, who had been drinking, followed him.

The two men met at the crossroads and King, who had better forestalled him by performing a surgical operation. Acting on impulse the brave butcher sliced a carving knife and ran the blade into his own hand.

The crowd, who had been following him, stopped and gazed in amazement at the scene.

Miss Gertrude Beauchamp and her brother, Lafayette, of McDaniel's, were the guests of Mrs. Owen Cunningham last Sunday.

Mort Simon, an old blind man who lives next Rock Vale, was brought here last week, and lodged in jail on a charge of violating the local option law in his district.

The members of Brodus' church gave an all day lunch last Saturday in Mrs. Tief's store room. The proceeds will go to supply a carpet for the church.

The Public School closed last Friday. Messrs. Petre and Harman, who have been in charge called the pupils up and distributed refreshments before dismissing them.

There was a big rush of business last week at the ten-cent counters. Christmas buyers, like other folks, hunt up the places where they can get a good many things for a little money.

Old Gen. Wheeler, like George Washington, seems to bear a charmed life or were proofs against bullets.

Dr. S. P. Woolford is still quite ill. Dr. Dickey of Louisville is expected today to meet his physician here.

Mr. John Frakes and little Carrie D. spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Drury, in Breckenridge County.

The popular malady, grip, has not struck us yet. Louisville is suffering and the Legion boys, especially.

Bro. Littlefield will preach next Sunday. He is giving us some very fine sermons.

We are English enough to drop all serious affairs at the holiday season and give ourselves over to a "fif' of soul" given us by the boys.

Miss Agnes Mainz entertained a delightful house party of friends during the holidays from Evansville and Owensboro.

Breckenridge Normal closed last Friday for a week's holiday. The teachers gave a generous treat. Miss Mona Price's little pupils gave her a grand send-off.

Breckenridge and Meade County and adjoining counties expanded into the greatest Christmas trade and yet grumblers still exist and croakers continue to croak.

Phillips is in Louisville, with Lena Nevitt, to spend the week with Misses Manzie and Nettie Sheene and Little Hattie.

The Christmas tree treat and the present-giving at the Methodist church last Saturday were pleasantly carried out. A large audience and a social hour had ensued.

Mr. Bickerstaff is very thoughtful and kind. She cooked (she is a famous cook) and sent a large batch of delicious edibles to a lonely friend and his motherless boy.

Whatever thought the south was not past, the Rev. President McKinley's last Saturday just apostrophized some people and some papers of the fact?

Rev. Mr. Bickerstaff cannot accept the call to the Baptist church here. Rev. Drury has been called. He is spoken of as a highly spiritual consecrated man.

I heard a dyed in the wool Democrat (Thos. H. Ditty) say he was almost persuaded to vote for McKinley after reading his speech at Macon, Georgia.

We love the Legion, but please let us hold up and talk about items of more general interest. Military gossip is all right, but please stop news just now.

Tuesday evening, Misses Manzie and will entertain for Miss Williams of West Point, and Miss Manzie Hunt, of Woodland. Quite a number from here are invited. Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Mattie have invited me to assist in receiving. I hope to be present, as they are most pleasant as hostesses, and their popularity is renowned for enjoyable occasions.

Make some one happy this Christmas and thus create a ripple in your own cordial nature.

Miss Mollie Adkisson went to Cloverport Saturday to visit her brother, Dr. S.

Miss McFay, of Hardinsburg, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. T. B. Henderson, during the holidays.

John McGaugh and Charley Cambell went to Cloverport Saturday returning Monday.

T. G. Jordan went to Ekron Saturday to spend a few days with his daughter, Mrs. Bill Ward.

We gladly welcome Jas. Skillman and family among us. Such additions to society are valuable.

H. L. Kurtz went to Louisville last Friday to escort his sister, Miss Norie, home from Peewee Valley Seminary.

Miss Myra Hanks returned to her home in Louisville from a week's vacation, dismissing school for one week.

Everybody's latch string will hang on the outside in this community during the holidays and nothing short of an old time Christmas will answer.

Mort Skilling, who has been in Washington, D. C., for the past year, an employee in the treasury department, returned here recently in impaired health and is at Dick May's.

And the hero of the Merrimac, if press reports are to be believed, was killed by Mr. Watson to present Col. L. M. Clegg's name for Governor. However,

Kentucky has great reverence for the colonial but he isn't the right timber just now.

Last Saturday there was scarcely standing room in any store. I heard one merchant say he had sold four times as much last year and yet, and yet, prosperity's wave is dented. Only love should prompt a kiss.

Bethel Jenkins preached a fine sermon (the verdict we unanimously agreed) and I am sure he did well during his ministerial work here.

He was enthusiastic and feeling in his every utterance, to which the congregation fully responded and when each and every one went forward to say a few words he did so with a good deal of grace and beauty.

Of course, the people who criticized the President for having a Confederate battle pinned on him were not on the trip.

Others, or those not included on more or less important trips are always the ones that get the critics' popular catch every time.

Miss E. Jones, of Goshen, is the guest of Misses Mattie and Mabel Stacklett. Mr. Henry Stacklett, wife and a friend, of Leavenworth, Ind., and Henry Stacklett, of Ohio, all spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Stacklett.

I feel so much better after taking two great strides. I am coming into first place in the alignment of the Powers.

Now I can more dictate money rates.

London and Paris. Let her continue to make arrangements, continual studies of the world.

Dr. W. P. Fouts has proved himself a good, up-to-date, progressive farmer.

Irvington will have the Farmers' Institute, and mainly through the doctor's efforts, January 3 is the date.

Lively discussions on interesting topics by Postmen, men, ladies, and flower girls are items.

Mr. George Frymire had a dinner Sunday for relatives. Mrs. Frymire is an adept at serving.

N. and Mrs. Thos. H. Ditty were in Sunday to hear Brother Jenkins' farewell sermon, and ate Christmas dinner with him.

There was a big rush of business last

Tortured By Rheumatism.

A Purely Vegetable Blood Remedy is the Only Cure.

If the people generally knew the true cause of Rheumatism, there would be no such thing as liniments and lotions for this painful and disabling disease. The fact is, Rheumatism is a disordered state of the blood that can be reached, that is, only through the blood. But all blood remedies do not cure Rheumatism, for it is an obstinate disease, one which requires a real blood remedy—something more than a mere tonic. Swift's Specific is the only real blood remedy, and it promptly goes to the very root of every such obstinate case.

A few years ago I was taken with inflammatory Rheumatism, which, though mild at first, became so intense that it was for a time a real scourge. I tried several prominent physicians and took their treatment faithfully, but failed to get to the slightest relief. In fact, my condition grew worse, the pains spread over my entire body, and from November to March I was a complete invalid. My patient medicines, but none relieved me. Upon the advice of a friend I decided to go to Dr. Swift, of Atlanta, Georgia. He, however, my guardian, who was a chemist, analyzed the remedy, and pronounced it free of potash or mercury.

Dr. Dickey of Louisville is expected today to meet his physician here.

Mr. John Frakes and little Carrie D. spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Drury, in Breckenridge County.

The popular malady, grip, has not struck us yet. Louisville is suffering and the Legion boys, especially.

Bro. Littlefield will preach next Sunday. He is giving us some very fine sermons.

Dr. S. P. Woolford is still quite ill.
